

Calendar Art Sets: IX

by Herbert G. Price

This installment of our series of articles on Calendar Art Sets will report on some sets I have learned about from readers of The RMS Bulletin. Thanks to all who have taken the time to share information with me. The Patriotic set from the unknown manufacturer reported in The RMS Bulletin #505 has been seen with menu marks from Chicago Match and from Kaeser & Blair. (Are Kaeser & Blair and Chicago Match somehow related? I think someone with the knowledge should write an article for The RMS Bulletin on the subject of which match companies are divisions of or other match companies or otherwise related to another match company.) Some collectors seem to get what I call "Grocery Store Sets" and Calendar Art Sets confused. Calendar Art Sets have advertising, "Grocery Store Sets" have no advertising. "Grocery Store Sets" are available at retail stores for purchase. Usually a collector has to purchase several caddies to put together a complete set. Later in the year I hope to report on the Calendar Art Sets issued by Canadian match companies. Many of these sets contain eight or more covers and feature color photos from Canadian landmarks.
