

Interesting Covers

1. "Old Ironsides", a 1926 silent movie. Bobtailed, but old and interesting
[John Mathot, MA]

2. "The Singing Fool", a 1928 silent movie with Al Jolson...hmmmm! [John Mathot, MA]

3. Look closely at this old Chicago cover and you'll see that the word "STEAKS" is reversed on the front panel. Is that an error...or someone trying to be cute?

4. A 40-strike cover by Gopher Match Co., St. Paul, MN—only the second 40-strike by this company that I've seen (and only two are listed).

5. It's difficult to see in this scan, but look at the date on the top flap of this 1982 RMS Convention cover (part of a 3-cover set). It actually says "1882". The raised-ink on the '9' has merged into itself to make the '8' look like a '9'.
