-Nothing here in Up-State, Central New York.

-DisneyWorld has virtually dried up as a source.

-If you look at the more recent overruns received, it is from casinos (especially Indian), loan companies, tattoo parlors, bail bonds, small businesses and restaurants outside areas where smoking is banned or where they give out matches as a calling card despite smoking bans.

-Casinos, except in British Columbia where smoking is prohibited in all casinos.

-Even though Philadelphia has a smoking ban, some restaurants still have new matches.

-That's a difficult question to answer! Rarely do I find matchbooks in public places anymore. Even in Las Vegas on the strip they seem to be rationed out.

-Quite a few at top restaurants in NYC.

-All over. You just have to look!

-A friend just returned from Vegas and said the only thing he found was a few white on white. Most of the restaurants we go to in the central Ohio area don't have any, anymore.

-I cannot find new covers here in Fl. Tough n/smoking law.

-There is nothing in my area. The only place I find covers is in casinos in the USA.

-WI goes smoke-free statewide Monday, July 5, in all work places including bars and restaurants.

-I was in South Carolina last September and most of the restaurants had them.

-I'm in Las Vegas for a week and there seems to be matches in the restaurants and casinos I have visited so far. I would think the collectors who live here would have no problem getting tons of matches to share.
